

On May 16: Let's Stand Up for Ourselves, Our Families, Our Communities.

For six months we have been negotiating for a new contract that will provide decent raises and quality, affordable healthcare – for us and our families.

Our choice is clear: sit still and be quiet - which says to our employers that we don't want a better life.

Or stand up and be heard - which says that we need a better life for ourselves, our families and our communities.

Our bargaining committee hopes to win a new contract at the negotiating table. However, there are no negotiations scheduled beyond May 22nd. When faced with similar obstacles during our 2007 negotiations, San Francisco Security Officers went on strike.

Let's be ready to protect what's ours and fight for what we deserve!

"For too long security officers have been forced to live paycheck to paycheck. We work hard for a living - and we deserve to be paid enough to have a family, a place to live, transport and food."—Security Officer Ricardo Moreira.
