

LABOR AND COMMUNITY
UNITY RALLY AND MARCH
STOP THE ATTACKS ON BART WORKERS
AND OUR COMMUNITIES

Tuesday, October 8, 5pm
Frank Ogawa/Oscar Grant Plaza

BART managers are trying to provoke a strike and blame it on the workers in an attempt to divide workers who rely on BART from those who make BART work. They filed false charges against a leading union organizer to keep him off property, and hired an outside consultant known to cause strikes. The outcome will set the tone for all workers in the Bay Area.

The fights we see in the communities are connected. CEOs and managers around the Bay Area have been working to drive down wages, health care, and retirement for all of us, while ignoring safety needs and working conditions. Banks have been taking homes, while our money has gone to bailing out those banks rather than paying for public services we need. Our schools and services have been cut, and our youth and families attacked economically, politically, and socially.

Stand up for our communities – All working people should be able to raise our families with decent jobs, the public services we need, and freedom from harassment.

Join in the fight! All out on October 8th!
