

Celebrate two heroic San Francisco workers

Teresa Mina and Lupe Chavez

Teresa Mina was a janitor in the office buildings downtown, a member of SEIU Local 87

Lupe Chavez is a housekeeper, cleaning rooms at the Hilton, and belongs to Unitehere Local 2

They are workers, mothers who have fought for their families, immigrants who faced life in a country far from the one where they were born, and part of our labor movement here in San Francisco.

Both tell their stories in a new book by David Bacon --

The Right to Stay Home

Come help us celebrate their lives, and this book:

San Francisco Labor Council

Monday, December 9, 2013, 6PM

Plumbers' Hall ~ 1621 Market Street, SF

All workers and union members are welcome.
Refreshments will be served.