

Google: Don't Be Evil.

Respect Our Communities

Security officers and other service workers in the tech industry are struggling to make ends meet, despite contributing to staggering success of companies like Google.

Skyrocketing housing prices are driving families out of their communities.

And our public infrastructure is deteriorating because many big tech companies fail to pay their fair share in taxes to support public schools or public transit.

Tell Google: Respect Our Communities and Support Good Jobs for Hardworking Security Officers

Take Action on Wednesday, June 25th
Starting at 10:00 am
Moscone Center, 800 Howard St, San Francisco

Printed in house by SEIU United Service Workers West

