

APRIL 23: IMPROVE PATIENT CARE AT SFGH

We, San Francisco Healthcare Workers, will stand-up for safe staffing and patient care on Tues., April 23 at SFGH.

In the richest city in the world, with the highest cost of living and most billionaires, and a new wave of tech IPOs about to make inequality worse, there's no excuse for healthcare workers to burn out because we don't have the resources our patients need.

But we are being told in negotiations that the City can't afford to invest in the staffing our patients need, can't stop the abuse of temporary workers, and can't allow our salaries to keep up with the skyrocketing cost of living.

We're calling on Mayor Breed and city leaders to invest in vital public services that make our city a safe and healthy community for all.

RISKING ARREST TO IMPROVE PATIENT CARE at SFGH

"We all want the same thing: to be able to provide services and improve patient care for the people who live here in this city and people who visit this city and we just want to earn a living while we're doing it."

JENNIFER ESTEEN, SFGH

On April 11, Jennifer & 24 other city workers were arrested to call attention to the need to invest in public services in SF.
