

Statement from the San Francisco Labor Council on the Derek Chauvin Verdict

April 21, 2021 – The jury delivered a measure of justice for George Floyd and his family and held Derek Chauvin accountable for the murder of George Floyd. However, the work of confronting and dismantling the systemic racism so pervasive in our culture is just beginning.

The San Francisco Labor Council stands in solidarity with our siblings of color in San Francisco and across this nation. Our movement is committed to redoubling our efforts to expand economic opportunity for all – especially those who have been marginalized and left out for far too long. We look forward to reaching out and working with our community allies to fight for social justice.

George Floyd’s death inspired a movement across this nation for justice. The Labor Council hears that call and will continue its work to create a more just and equal nation.
